Heavy Construction Machinery Distribution

Revenue: £7.8m

Our Client is an independent distributor of heavy construction equipment that is a vital element of large infrastructure and development projects. These are big ticket sales, with order values averaging more than £400,000.

It holds exclusive rights to distribute equipment from several market leading manufacturers. It has held these rights for more than 20 years, during which time it has developed an exceptionally close working relationship with the manufacturers.

As well as strong relationships with manufacturers, it also has exceptionally strong historic ties with clients. These include major Tier 1 contractors involved in high-profile projects such as HS2, Heathrow Terminal 5, Crossrail, and The Shard.

The Company has a loyal team with low staff turnover.

The market for its products is strong and there are many opportunities for growth.

Financially, the business is robust and consistently profitable, even through the Pandemic related lockdown.

This Company has an experienced management team and is well positioned for further growth. The owner believes that this would be better achieved under new ownership and is seeking a buyer for the trade and assets of the business.
